SEAN AUSTIN CONTINUES NEW REGGAE CHAPTER WITH "FI YU FOREVER," PRODUCED BY TROYTON MUSIC

Jamaican born, Houston based artist delivers a melodic reggae declaration of commitment, loyalty, and lasting love.

HOUSTON, TEXAS: Jamaican born reggae artist and songwriter Sean Austin continues an active new chapter in his music career with "Fi Yu Forever," a melodic reggae love song produced by Troyton Music.

Rooted in the warmth, rhythm, and emotional directness of Jamaican reggae, "Fi Yu Forever" explores commitment, loyalty, and choosing one person for the long road. Austin combines conversational Jamaican phrasing, memorable melodies, and relationship driven storytelling with polished production from Troyton Music that respects reggae's foundation while presenting the sound for a contemporary international audience.

The release follows Austin's 12 track 2026 album, The Essentials, a project that showcases the different dimensions of his songwriting, from romance and relationships to family, perseverance, celebration, and personal reflection.

Born in Clarendon, Jamaica and now based in Houston, Texas, Sean Austin represents a bridge between the culture that shaped him and the international audience he continues to build. His music draws from reggae and dancehall while emphasizing melody, relatable storytelling, and subjects that extend beyond any one generation or geographic market.

Recent promotional activity has included radio and media appearances in Jamaica, digital promotion in the United States, new visual content, and continued live performance development.

"Fi Yu Forever" represents the romantic side of a larger artistic mission. It is a song for couples, reggae lovers, and listeners who still want music to tell a story, with genuine emotion behind the melody.

"Fi Yu Forever" is available now on major digital music platforms.
